

ACCESSING BACK BULLETIN ARTICLES ON ACBL WEBSITE

ACBL members can access back issues of the Bulletin.

STEP 1: Log in by clicking below. You will need your member number. If you have previously logged in, you will also need your password (but there's a place to click to make a new one if you forgot it.) If you've never logged in, you will have to create a password.

STEP 2: Scroll down the left side until you see Bridge Bulletin and click on that. The current issue of the magazine will come up. If that is the issue you want to read, you can navigate to specific articles by clicking on Contents Page along the top bar (or go to page 5, which is usually the contents page) and then select an article from that page or from the list that appears on the left. You can also browse page by page by using the forward and backward arrows. If you want to read an earlier issue, see Step 3.

STEP 3: You can click on Archives on the top bar and then scroll to select the issue you want from either the list on the left or the pictures of each issue on the right. Then look for a specific article as in Step 2. We had trouble scrolling on our touch screen. If that happens to you, you can also reach a specific issue by clicking on search on the top bar and putting in the month and year (December 2011, for example). When given a choice, opt to search all issues rather than the current issue. The first choice will be page 5, the contents page, which will let you navigate to the article you want.

For those of you who have trouble scrolling, we've listed below the issue and page number for all Losing Trick Count articles by Jennifer Jones. These articles can be used as a resource for those who wish to learn more about LTC.
